Eyes Up Appalachia Aug 2020 - present

Founder of Eyes Up Appalachia, an anti-human trafficking initiative focusing on Appalachian Ohio. Work with the Foundation for Appalachian Ohio (FAO) as my fiscal sponsor. Offer educational presentations and training to audiences throughout the state and region on human trafficking generally and rural and familial trafficking specifically. Connect local groups serving vulnerable populations to our state and regional resources. Help local coalitions build a human trafficking component. Concluded an Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) funded study in 2020 on the services available in Southeast Ohio to assist human trafficking victims, identified gaps in those services, and continue to work with communities to address those gaps. Currently working a project to map vulnerabilities for human trafficking throughout the state to move toward a preventative strategy. Recently concluded a study on prevalence of human trafficking in Appalachian Ohio to establish a baseline and convened stakeholder groups throughout the region to identify themes and create efforts to address the greatest needs in the region.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE HIGHLIGHTS

American Public University System (APUS)/American Military University 2011- Jul 2019

Charles Town, West Virginia (remote)

Professor, Program Director (2014-2019) – Public Administration, Public Policy, Legal Studies

Responsible for all program and discipline quality, content, materials, and evaluation of their impact on our classrooms. Strategically planned for and mapped program objectives to those of the university and national standards. Conferred with members of educational committees and industry advisory groups to obtain leading edge knowledge of subject areas. Developed course curriculum to implement this information and focus the programs on a more practical application for students.

- Worked with Institutional Research to develop course and program assessments that evaluate student learning and effectiveness of instructional strategies and methods to achieve learning outcomes.
- Convened regular meetings with course leads and faculty so they are aware of how their course(s) fit within the overall program progression and other APUS requirements and motivate them to continually improve.
- Coached/mentored course leads and faculty in curriculum development and teaching and incorporate their suggestions into ongoing curriculum to enhance overall “ownership” in the program.
- Recognized course leads, full-time faculty and students for outstanding performance or accomplishments.
- Implemented the ongoing campaign “Putting ‘Service’ Back in Public Service” in my MPA and MPP programs in 2016.
- Taught graduate courses such as Law and Policy, Grant Writing, Program Evaluation, Capstones
- Awarded Provost Challenge 2018 – 3rd place (interdisciplinary hackathon) Awarded Provost Challenge 2015 – 3rd place (incorporate Adobe technology into classroom), Deans and Directors Poster Competition – Winner (June 2015) and Excellence in Teaching and Learning, APUS School of Public Service & Health (June 2014)
- Awarded APUS Research Grant (2014) and National Park Service and Instructional Technology Council Online Partner Projects grant (2015)
